Customer Reviews

Customers rave about Andar's pet-friendly products for their exceptional design and trendiness.

For instance, JM, one of our verified buyers, had this to say about The Dog Collar:

"After receiving this item in the mail, I can really tell that this is not just an ordinary dog collar. The leather is not too thin, but not too thick either. The buckle is good, it's not loose, and won't slip off. I didn't think I would like how thick the large version was, but I actually prefer it now. Definitely a favorite!"

Here are a few more of our loyal customers that echo JM's sentiments about this iconic leather dog collar:

- J: "Just got this for our 4-month mini golden doodle. I love the quality and size."
- Guest: "I have a Husky Border Collie mix who tends to get dirty and is extremely active— this collar is easy to clean if needed and it's the perfect thickness for my dog's neck. It's very durable and strong (he also pulls on the collar during walks) and I've had zero issues whatsoever! If you're in between sizes, go down a size."
- SM: "This collar is very well made and looks great on my Boston. Love the brass hardware. The leather already has some scuffs and scratches and looks great. Boston terriers have weird body shapes, so the medium collar is on the last hole but it's not tight. Makes him look like a badass dog."

The Dog Collar combines expertise in leather craftsmanship with a keen understanding of user-friendliness, guaranteeing a superior experience for both pets and their owners.

But don't just take our word for it. You too can join the vast range of customers who trust our brand and love this leather dog collar for their furry friends.

Good Quality Leather Dog Collars FAQs

Why Buy A Leather Dog Collar?

Are leather dog collars good? When considering The Dog Collar from us at Andar, several factors set it apart as an excellent leather accessory for your pet:

- Quality Design: This pet-friendly product is meticulously stitched and riveted for added resilience.
- Sustainable Materials: Unlike materials like nylon, leather won't fray apart, providing long-lasting use.
- Secure Hardware: The hardware attachments for your dog's identification are securely fastened, reducing the risk of loss or detachment.
- Versatile Sizing Options: Our leather collars are also versatile, often expanding in size to accommodate your dog's growth from puppy to adulthood, ensuring a relaxed yet snug fit throughout their life.
- Comfortable Accessory: Moreover, full-grain leather softens over time, enhancing comfort for both the handler and the dog.

How Tight Should A Dog Collar Be?

Ideally, the collar should fit snugly but allow room for two fingers between the collar and your dog's neck.

This is the general maxim we follow at Andar: if the collar slips over your dog's head easily, it might be too loose; and if you can't fit two fingers underneath it, then it might be too tight.

Overall, the collar should fit loosely enough to spin freely around your dog's neck but tighten under pressure, such as when the dog pulls on it, preventing it from slipping off.

Our team discovered through using this product that in order to determine the correct size for The Dog Collar, you should measure your dog's neck first and size it down by one to two inches for an optimal fit so it's not too tight.

Is It Normal For Leather Collars To Smell?

As per our expertise, leather typically emits a natural and pleasing scent, which is particularly noticeable in new products that gradually dissipates with time.

However, if you notice a strong chemical smell, this can indicate that your dog collar was made using inferior materials.

Additionally, dog collars may also develop odors from your pet's natural scents and outdoor activities. Regular cleaning with The Product Care range from us at Andar helps maintain a pleasant odor for your leather dog collar.

How Do You Condition A Leather Dog Collar?

After trying out these products, The Leather Care Kit containing our specialized conditioner and The Leather Cream from us at Andar are ideal for conditioning leather dog collars.

You'll need at least three different soft and dry microfiber cloths for the conditioning process:

1. Use the first cloth to remove dust and dirt from the dog collar.
2. Use the second cloth to rub a small amount of leather cream into the collar to clean it. Leave the collar for a few minutes so the cream can saturate the material, then wipe off any excess cream on the surface with the same cloth.
3. Let the collar air-dry naturally at room temperature, then use the third cloth to lightly spray leather conditioner all over the collar so that it reaches beneath the surface to keep the inner fibers supple. Allow the conditioner to seep into the leather for several minutes, then let it dry fully before putting it to use.
